Alamodome Attendance Records

The Valero Alamo Bowl will be played in San Antonio's 65,000 seat Alamodome. The Alamodome is one of the most sought-after venues in the Lone Star State for major sporting events. The multi-purpose facility has served as the home of the Alamo Bowl for the past 20 years and is now also home to UTSA football and the San Antonio Talons of the Arena Football League.

The facility, which welcomes concerts, conventions and trade shows, has also hosted three Dr Pepper Big 12 Football Championship Games, three regular season and six NFL preseason games and seven neutral site Division I FBS games. On the high school level, the Alamodome played host to the 2006, 2007 and 2009 UIL 5A Division I and II Football Championship games and annually hosts the U.S. Army All-American Bowl each January.

The top college events played at the Alamodome include three NCAA Men's Final Four and the Women's Final Four in 2002 and 2010. The 2008 Men's Final Four attracted a crowd of 43,718 as Kansas defeated Memphis 75-68 in overtime to claim the National Championship.

Game Notes

WELCOME TO THE #ALAMOBOWL

Since its inception in 1993, the Valero Alamo Bowl has developed a growing track record of top ESPN ratings, capacity crowds and exciting games. The 20th Annual Valero Alamo Bowl lived up to its billing as #23 Texas overcame a 10 point second half deficit to beat #13 Oregon State 31-27.

Two dramatic touchdowns from Longhorn wide receiver Marquise Goodwin and a bowl record 4.5 sacks from defensive end Alex Okafor keyed the comeback in front of a standing room only crowd of 65,277. It was the fourth highest attendance in Valero Alamo Bowl history and the fifth capacity crowd in the last seven years. The game was also the seventh game in the last eight where the outcome wasn't decided until the final two minutes.

The Valero Alamo Bowl has produced five of the Top 15 Most-Watched Non-BCS Bowl Games in ESPN history including the #1, #2 and #6 most-watched games with the 2010 (Texas Tech vs. Michigan State), 2006 (Texas vs. Iowa) and 2005 (Michigan vs. Nebraska) in terms of household impressions, respectively. Over 6.75 million viewers watched the 2012 game, making it ESPN's 14th most-watched non-BCS bowl game of all-time. More than 120 million viewers have tuned in to the 20 Valero Alamo Bowl broadcasts.

COACHING COMPARISON

The 2013 Valero Alamo Bowl will be the first meeting between Texas head coach Mack Brown and Oregon head coach Mark Helfrich.

Brown, the 2005 National Coach of the Year after leading the Longhorns to the BCS National Championship, is 157-45 in 16 seasons at Texas. He is taking the Longhorns to a bowl game for the 15th time, and bringing them to San Antonio for the third time. Brown is 10-4 in bowl games at Texas with wins in seven of their last eight appearances, including the 31-27 win over Oregon State last year in the Valero Alamo Bowl.

Helfrich is in his first year as the head coach for the Ducks. He spent the last four seasons as the program's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. Helfrich is the first Oregonian to head the university's football program since John Warren in 1942. Oregon finished the year 10-2, marking their sixth straight 10-win season.

TOP 10 RANKINGS

This is the third time the Valero Alamo Bowl has played host to a Top 10 team.

The #4 Kansas State Wildcats traveled to San Antonio to face off against the Purdue Boilermakers in the 1998 Alamo Bowl. The Wildcats fell to Drew Brees and company in a 37-34 thriller. At the time, the game's 4.92 rating made it the fifth most-watched game in ESPN history, helping establish the Alamo Bowl's reputation as the fastest growing bowl game.

In the 2000 Alamo Bowl, the #8 Nebraska Cornhuskers faced off against the high-scoring spread attack of the #19 Northwestern Wildcats. The Huskers dominated the game on the ground, rushing for 476 yards in a 66-17 victory. The game set NCAA Bowl Records for most points by one team in a game (Nebraska with 66) and most combined points in a quarter (Nebraska and Northwestern combined to score 45 points in the 2nd quarter).

TEXAS CONNECTIONS

Oregon has had success recruiting in the state of Texas over the last few seasons. The Ducks currently sport seven Texas natives on their roster. This includes a pair of playmakers in Bralon Addison and Josh Huff.

Addison, from Missouri City, caught 56 balls for 842 yards and seven touchdowns this year.

Huff, who hails from Houston, leads the team in all three major statistical categories for receivers. The 5'11" senior recorded 57 catches for 1036 yards and 11 touchdowns.

The Longhorns, unsurprisingly, boast over 100 Texas natives on their roster. This includes five members from the San Antonio area. Of the Longhorns with San Antonio roots, running back Malcolm Brown stands out. The junior has excelled this year, rushing for 774 yards and nine touchdowns.

GUESS WHO'S BACK?

Oregon offensive coordinator Scott Frost is no stranger to San Antonio. The 38-year-old Lincoln, Neb. native led the Nebraska Cornhuskers to the 1997 Big 12 Championship game held at the Alamodome. The #2 Cornhuskers defeated the #14 Texas A&M Aggies 54-15 to capture the conference crown.

Frost and his teammates would go on to capture the 1997 national championship with a convincing win over a Peyton Manning-led Tennessee Volunteers squad.

UNFAMILIAR FOES

The 2013 Valero Alamo Bowl will be just the fifth all-time meeting between Texas and Oregon on the gridiron. The Longhorns lead the all-time series with a record of 4-1 against the Ducks.

GRUDGE MATCH

The last time Oregon and Texas faced off was in the 2000 Holiday Bowl. The first 15 minutes belonged to the #8 Oregon Ducks, who jumped out to a 14-0 lead. #12 Texas responded with three second quarter touchdowns to take a 7-point advantage into the locker room, 21-14.

Ducks signal caller Joey Harrington connected on a 55-yard scoring pass to tailback Maurice Morris early in the third quarter to tie the game. Harrington then gave Oregon a 28-21 advantage when he scrambled for 9-yards for a touchdown at the 9:43 mark of the fourth quarter.

That lead lasted all of 18 seconds thanks to the heroics of Texas return specialist Victor Ike, who returned the ensuing kickoff a Holiday Bowl record 93 yards for the game tying touchdown.

The Ducks took the lead for good on a 4-yard touchdown run by Jason Willis and held off the Longhorns, who were throwing for the endzone as time ran out, 35-30.

Game Notes

LONGHORNS REMEMBER ALAMO

While Oregon is making their first appearance in the Valero Alamo Bowl, it is a third trip for Texas, who were 26-24 winners of the 2006 Alamo Bowl against Iowa. In that game, Texas was led by freshman quarterback Colt McCoy who threw for 308 yards and 2 touchdowns on his way to being named Offensive MVP. His 72-yard touchdown pass to Jamaal Charles put Texas on top after falling behind 14-0 in the first quarter. The play was also named one of the Top 5 plays in Valero Alamo Bowl history earlier last fall.

The Longhorns helped pack the Alamodome with 65,875 fans, making it the second-highest attendance in Alamo Bowl history. The game was also the highest-rated game of the 2006 bowl season, receiving a 6.0 rating, and it is the #2 Most-Watched Non-BCS Bowl Game in ESPN history.

Texas returned to San Antonio for the 20th Anniversary game in 2012 where they topped #13 Oregon State 31-27. The Longhorns set a Valero Alamo Bowl record for sacks with ten, while defensive end Alex Okafor captured his own VAB record with 4.5 sacks. Longhorns and Beaver faithful packed the Alamodome with 65,277 in attendance, good for fourth on the all-time Valero Alamo Bowl list.

ELECTRIFYING OFFENSE

The Ducks come to San Antonio boasting one of the most explosive offenses in the country. Led by quarterback Marcus Mariota, Oregon scores an average of 46.8 points per game, good for #3 in the FBS. They have proved a difficult unit to prepare for as they tallied 278.3 yards on the ground and 294.7 yards through the air per game this season. Mariota ranks in the top ten nationally in passing efficiency, total offense, points responsible for, yards per completion & passing touchdowns. Sophomore Byron Marshall has burst onto the scene this year for Scott Frost's offense, recording 995 yards and 14 touchdowns on the season.

ALL-CONFERENCE PERFORMERS

Both Texas and Oregon were well represented on their respective All-Conference teams. Jackson Jeffcoat (defensive end) & Anthony Fera (kicker) both earned Big 12 first-team All Conference honors for Texas. The Longhorns placed six (Malcolm Brown, Jaxon Shipley, Donald Hawkins, Trey Hopkins, Cedric Reed, Carrington Byndom) on the Big 12 All-Conference second team.

Quarterback Marcus Mariota, OL Hroniss Graso and CB Ifo Ekpre-Olomu all earned first team honors from the Pac-12. The Ducks also placed two players (Taylor Hart, Erick Dargan) on the Pac-12's second team All-Conference list.

DOWN TO THE WIRE

The 2012 Valero Alamo Bowl was once again a back and forth, four quarter showdown, adding to the bowl's reputation for close games and exciting finishes. Texas trailed Oregon State 27-17 before rallying back to win the game. Texas quarterback David Ash threw touchdown passes to Johnathan Gray and Marquise Goodwin to give the Longhorns the win. Seven of the last eight Valero Alamo Bowls have been decided by a touchdown or less.

In the 2005 MasterCard Alamo Bowl, Michigan lateraled the ball eight times on the final play and nearly found the end zone. Nebraska's Titus Brothers did not give up on the play and sealed the 32-28 victory as he pushed Michigan's Tyler Eckler out of bounds.

In 2006, Texas overcame a 14-0 deficit and held Iowa scoreless in its last two drives, including once as time expired, to defeat the Hawkeyes 26-24.

In 2007, Penn State overcame a two touchdown deficit to shut down a late Texas A&M drive on the two yard line in its 24-17 win against the Aggies.

In 2008, Missouri and Northwestern went to Overtime before deciding a winner. A short pass from quarterback Chase Daniel to wide receiver Jeremy Maclin proved to be the difference in the Tigers' 30-23 win.

The January 2010 edition of the Valero Alamo Bowl saw Texas Tech trailing 31-27 with eight minutes remaining before Steven Sheffield led the Red Raiders to two late touchdowns and a 41-31 victory.

In 2011, Baylor outlasted Washington 67-56 in the highest scoring regulation bowl game in college football history. The two teams combined to set 15 Valero Alamo Bowl records. Baylor trailed Washington 56-53 with 9:40 to go, but Terance Ganaway provided two of his five touchdown runs in the final six minutes to help Baylor secure the win.

ODDS & ENDS

Texas will be making their 52nd bowl appearance, which ranks second in NCAA history. This will be the 27th all-time bowl appearance for Oregon.

Oregon has played in six bowl games in the state of Texas prior to this year's Alamobowl. They hold a 3-3 record in those games.

Jackson Jeffcoat is the third Longhorn to earn AP Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year. LB Derrick Johnson won in 2004 and DE Brian Orakpo in 2008

The 2013 Valero Alamo Bowl will feature two of the most historically dynamic offenses in the country. Since 1997, the #2 highest scoring team in college football is Oregon with 7,550 points (35.6 avg.). Number 3? Texas (7,527, 35.2).

Mack Brown will be gunning for a record third Valero Alamo Bowl victory, breaking a current tie he shares with the late Joe Paterno of Penn State and former Purdue coach Joe Tiller.

ESPN will again televise the Valero Alamo Bowl, which has traditionally been one of the network's highest-rated college football broadcasts. ESPN's talent for the 2013 Valero Alamo Bowl includes play-by-play commentator Brad Nessler, analyst Todd Blackledge, along with sideline reporter Holly Rowe.

Brad Nessler, one of the leading play-by-play commentators in the business, calls games for both ESPN and ABC. He has worked for ESPN since 1992, and added ABC assignments in 1997 while continuing to handle college football and basketball games for ABC and ESPN. He's also the play-by-play voice of EA Sports NCAA Football and college basketball March Madness video games. Nessler currently calls the ESPN College Football Primetime game on Saturday nights with analyst Todd Blackledge and reporter Holly Rowe. From 1992 to 1997, Nessler called college basketball games, and also Big Ten and Thursday night football contests for ESPN. In 1997, he began calling college football for ABC, including the Bowl Championship Series title game, as well as college basketball.

Nessler joined CBS in 1990 and worked on college football and men's and women's basketball, including the NCAA Division I Women's Championship game, and NFL games. He also was the network's host for speed skating coverage at the 1992 Olympic Winter Games in Albertville, France. Nessler is a graduate of Minnesota State University, Mankato. In 2010, he was inducted into the Minnesota Broadcasters Hall of Fame.

Todd Blackledge, who returned to ESPN in 2006, is an analyst for many of the network's college football events, including College Football Primetime. As the standout quarterback at Penn State, Blackledge started for the Nittany Lions from 1981 to 1983, going 31-5 through three seasons. After leading Penn State to the national championship in 1982, Blackledge won the Davey O'Brien Award as the nation's most outstanding quarterback, and he finished sixth in the Heisman Trophy voting.

In 1994, he joined ABC Sports as a college football analyst. He then was named CBS' lead analyst in 1999. In 2006, he joined play-by-play announcer Mike Patrick and sideline reporter Holly Rowe for ESPN's Saturday primetime college football series. He has been featured since 2007 in the popular "Todd's Taste of the Town," during which he visits a local restaurant near the site of the game he'll call that day, and discusses the culinary appeal of the establishment and more.

Holly Rowe joined ESPN on a regular basis in August 1998 and had previously served as a sideline reporter for select ESPN telecasts in 1997 and for ABC Sports from 1995-96. Rowe primarily covers college football, men's basketball and softball as a reporter, as well as the NBA and WNBA. She has also provided play-by-play commentary for women's college basketball, softball and volleyball.

She graduated from the University of Utah with a broadcast journalism degree. Rowe is a producer and writer of documentaries and features that have aired on KBYU TV, ESPN and FOX 13 TV in Salt Lake City.

ESPN Radio Coverage

Marc Kestecher joined ESPN in 1999 as an ESPN Radio Sportscenter update anchor. Kestecher is currently the lead studio host for ESPN Radio's NBA, MLB, and college football broadcasts, and a fixture at major events such as NBA All-Star Weekend, NBA Finals, NBA Draft, World Series, MLB All-Star Game, and the BCS Championship Game.

He can be seen regularly performing play-by-play duties on ESPN TV (NBA and men's and women's college basketball), including the 2010 FIBA World Championships.

Kestecher has also served as a reporter for ESPN Radio's coverage of major events such as the Super Bowl and US Open Championship.

Kelly Stouffer is an ESPN college football analyst, working primarily on ESPN's Saturday games alongside play-by-play announcer Anish Shroff.

Stouffer played quarterback at Colorado State University, where he is the all-time leader in yards passing. He was a first round draft pick in 1987 and in 1988 set a rookie record with the Seattle Seahawks for most yards passing in a game. He went on to play for the Miami Dolphins and the Carolina Panthers before retiring in 1996.

Stouffer first began working with ESPN calling various games for ESPN Regional Television in 2003. In 2007 he became a color analyst for college football on Versus and NFL Europe on the NFL Network. In 2011 he worked as a studio analyst for the Mountain West Network, before joining ESPN as a college football analyst in 2012.

Stouffer graduated from Colorado State in 1987 with a degree in Agricultural Education and currently resides on a ranch in northwest Nebraska.

Do It Like A Local

Want to know where to eat, drink and play while you are in San Antonio? The Valero Alamo Bowl staff has compiled the below list of places we frequent. Since the most popular questions are about Mexican food, dive bars and golf, we listed those first. We tried to focus on downtown, but some will require a car or taxi.

You can also check our website at alamobowl.com for detailed descriptions by going to the bottom right corner and clicking on the "Do It Like A Local" link. We'd advise hitting River Walk locations early in your stay as long waits and reservations will be the norm the closer we get to kickoff.

We hope you enjoy your visit to San Antonio and feel free to ask us if you have any questions.

Economic Impact and Scholarship Fund

Contribution to Higher Learning

The Valero Alamo Bowl Scholarship Program awarded a $5,000 scholarship to 40 area high school seniors this year, surpassing the $1.2 million mark in scholarships awarded to Bexar County high school seniors annually since 2001.

Students from over 70 local area high schools applied for the Valero Alamo Bowl scholarship, with 40 winners being selected on December 4th. These students received a $5,000 scholarship to attend the school of their choice next fall. The funds that support the scholarships are raised through Valero Alamo Bowl events during the year and contributions from bowl partners such as Valero.

The 2013 Valero Alamo Bowl scholarship recipients received their scholarship certificate at the Valero Alamo Bowl scholarship luncheon on December 18 at Fleming's Prime Steakhouse. Each recipient also received tickets to the 2013 Valero Alamo Bowl on courtesy of Frost.

ECONOMIC IMPACT: Since inception in 1993, nearly 1.2 million fans have attended the 20 Valero Alamo Bowls. The games have delivered $394 million direct economic impact to San Antonio. The 2012 game brought over 33,000 out-of-town fans and direct spending of approximately $23 million during what used to be the slowest week of tourism of the year. San Antonio received over $1.4 million in measurable media exposure and $1.2 million in incremental tax impacts, bringing the 20 year totals to $24.9 million and $28.2 million, respectively.

The Valero Alamo Bowl also actively pursues neutral site college football games for San Antonio with the most recent match-ups being Texas A&M vs. Army (2006), the Big 12 Championship (2007) and Notre Dame vs. Washington State (2009).

ON THE HORIZON: For the 2014 season, the Valero Alamo Bowl will match-up the #1 selections from both the Big 12 & Pac-12 (after the College Football Playoff). The head coaches of the teams selected in the game fly to San Antonio in mid-December to headline the Valero Alamo Bowl Golf Classic. When the coaches bring their teams back for Bowl Week, players, coaches and fans are treated to a variety of fun activities including trips to SeaWorld, a Pep Rally on the River Walk, a Kickoff Luncheon, a Bash, multiple Pregame Parties and much more.
